IAAND CR Mini Grant makes Meetup possible in Buenos Aires, Argentina

On August 14, IAAND Argentina organized a meet up with local members of IAAND within the framework of the AADYND Congress. AADYND leaders (Argentinean Association of Dietitians and Nutritionist Dietitians) and local academics were also invited. The event was held in Million, a recognized restaurant in old charming French style house in the heart of Buenos Aires.

The convocatory was a success, with over eleven attendees, and some delicious “tapas” and good wine. We had the opportunity to meet and learn about each other’s professional experiences. It was definitely a group of interesting and inspiring professionals. We had specialties of diverse fields, from research to social media and communication, from clinical to public health.

Main takeaways: IAAND started a conversation on potential joint professional development opportunities with AADYND to create a closer relationship between IAAND members and the Argentinean Nutritionist community. Everyone contributed with their thoughts and ideas about possible common interests. It was great to hear colleagues’ thoughts and insights into Spanish.

The opportunity to collaborate with IAAND Argentinean Meetup was exciting and fruitful. These types of events allow us to connect personally, to create paths and opportunities for IAAND worldwide.

We hope to see everyone again soon.
