Message from IAAND's President

Dear IAANDites,

Greetings from Chennai, India, and sending my birthday greetings to all our Taurean members.

IAAND has a wonderful upcoming international event opportunity which is the 19th International Congress of Nutrition and Dietetics 2024 hosted by the Dietitians of Canada from June 12 to 14, 2024 in Toronto, Canada. I urge every IAANDite to actively participate in submitting a proposal at the very earliest to the Scientific Committee and Conference Chair Shanti Dandapani to have our session truly reflect and display our worldwide networking.

While the National Nutrition Month March 2022 was a stupendous success, unfortunately it was not the case for March 2023! Why? Also, several opportunities for educational stipends and support for research proposals and projects are not utilized.

I had a great privilege to be part of the Task Force that identified and consolidated with valuable guidance of Esther Myers, five crucial areas that IAAND strategize, implement and achieve great heights over a five-year term. Our dynamic incoming President for 2023-2024, Ahlam El Shikeri has great experience on international projects and we need to utilize her leadership to our advantage in successfully implementing all the discussed goals.

We have 79 countries on the board of IAAND! I invite greater active participation on the leadership team too!

Let us catch up with invigorating networking activities of our 79 member countries.

Varsha, PhD, MS, RD, CCN, CNIS

Member Spotlight

We are happy to share the great news that our IAAND member Ylva Orrevall was chosen as the "Dietitian of the Year" in Sweden.

Ylva is docent and responsible for the research and development within the clinical nutrition department at Karolinska Universitetssjukhuset. During her 40 years in the nutrition and dietetics field she has worked in oncology nutrition, matters regarding research and development of nutrition treatment within homecare, hospital meals, journal documentation, as well as quality care and patient safety. Ylva's commitment and contribution to the profession has been extensive where her work with the oncology nutrition and creation of the oncology dietitians reference group led to her being awarded the “Dietitian of the Year” in 1991 for the first time.

Ylva has shown a strong passion for the development of the nutrition profession in Sweden where she worked with informatics and the code of ethics, documentation and terminology, and has been actively engaged in the implementation of the Nutrition Care Process and Nutrition Care Process Terminology.

For all her past and current accomplishments, and for being a great resource and inspiration she won the award for the second time. Congratulations!
